DENTAL IMPLANT PRICING AND INFORMATION GUIDE

Everything you need to know to make an educated decision on whether dental implants are for you

Welcome and Congratulations!

I want to congratulate you on making the wise decision to request a copy of this pricing and information guide for Dental Implants.

Our ultimate goal is simple: to give patients smiles that they love.

Why? Because in our years of practice, we've found that there's almost nothing that can make as big a difference in your health, self-confidence, and overall quality of life as your smile.

Everything else can be working like clockwork – job situation, family, friends and relationships. But if you can't experience the simple act of savoring the foods you love most... or if you're embarrassed to smile or even engage in conversation because of missing or failing teeth...

Then no matter how great everything else is going, the real joy you long for is missing.

We are here to tell you that you don't have to settle for that kind of life any longer. We know this for a fact because we have seen countless individuals who used to suffer from missing, failing teeth, or loose/ill-fitting dentures - now eating and enjoying the very foods they'd thought were lost to them forever.

We've seen patients walk in our doors seemingly ashamed to smile, and later walk out those same doors glowing with a lovely smile as radiant as the sun.

Thanks to the miracles of modern medicine and technology it's now not only possible, it's far more affordable and achievable than you probably have ever imagined.

Whether you're reading this guide for yourself or for a loved one, you're in the right place. We've designed this to provide you with all the necessary information you need to make an educated decision regarding what is best for overall health and happiness.

With all that said, let's get started.

DENTAL IMPLANTS: YOUR SOLUTION TO MISSING TEETH

When searching for solutions to tooth loss, There are many possible causes. Accidents. Illness. Job stress. Age. And sometimes just pure bad luck. But even though the causes can vary widely, what people WANT doesn't change much at all.

If you're like most people facing this situation, you'll want a solution that's:

NATURAL IN APPEARANCE

Who wants something that looks fake? Imagine instead a smile that's pure, clean, and allows you to beam with confidence.

COMFORTABLE

You want to be able to enjoy ALL your favorite foods without discomfort of pain, especially with your gums or any adjacent teeth.

EASY TO MAINTAIN

Who needs more hassles? The best solution is one that matches your natural teeth, allowing you to just brush and floss.

HEALTHY FOR YOUR MOUTH

You absolutely want to avoid bulky dental appliances that can cause bone loss, gum irritation, and increase the risk of decay and periodontal disease.

A GREAT VALUE

It should last a lifetime. Who wants to have to return to the Dentist every few years to swap out expensive appliances the require replacement.

TOP 5 Misconceptions People Have About Dental Implants

Here's a list of the top 5 misconceptions I've heard from patients when it comes to Dental Implants. We'll make sure to address all of these in this report, but we'll touch on them here right from the start:

- 1. They Won't Work For Me. They don't know whether implants would work for them... they've endured dentures for so long and haven't gone back to the Dentist to see if any other options are available. Dental Implants, as you'll see, can work for just about anyone to improve their appearance, their health, and their overall sense of well-being.
- 2. They're Too Expensive. They all think it's too expensive, too costly – not realizing the many options now available to make implants an affordable solution for practically anyone and any budget.
- 3. It's Too Scary To Even Consider. Many people are simply afraid - because when they were young, they had dental work done without anesthetic... so it hurt and they had a bad experience that they haven't forgotten. Rest assured, we're all about making sure your experience from start to finish is relaxing, comfortable, and as pain free as possible. There really is nothing to fear.
- 4. It Will Take Too Long. Many believe that the process of Dental Implants takes too LONG to do, that they'll have to go weeks, even months without a fully functioning mouth. Nothing of the sort. In most full arch cases, we can have you out the door with a temporary smile the very same day. After the implants heal, you come back and get your permanent teeth. It's that simple!
- 5. I'm Not A Good Candidate. They don't think they're a candidate for dental implants, that there's something about their age, health, oral situation, whatever that takes implants out of their picture. In reality, just about everyone who could benefit from Dental Implants, can get Dental Implants.

All-On-4

Single Tooth Implant

DENTAL IMPLANTS vs. DENTURES, FLIPPERS, and BRIDGES

A FRESH APPROACH TO A HEALTHIER SMILE

In years past, the most common treatment for when someone lost a tooth or many teeth was to put in a partial denture or a full denture. Now, even though dentures do provide relief, by no means do they act as a complete or perfect solution. Indeed, they have a number of significant drawbacks:

- Dentures can cause pain while eating, which can lead you to give up foods you love like apples, steak, corn on the cob, and many more.
- Even the best-fitted dentures can become uncomfortable during use.
- Dentures can be inconvenient to use and maintain, requiring additional hassles that make living a fully normal life a challenge.
- Long-term denture wearers can actually experience jawbone loss (this is the cause of the collapsed and wrinkled face that afflicts many who wear them).

These and many other reasons are why so many patients now consider Dental Implants as a possible solution. With Dental Implants, you can toss away dentures and instead have a fully restored smile, with perfectly fitting teeth that look and work like the ones you were born with. They are truly the closest thing to natural healthy teeth you could ever have.

Most Dentists who have been trained in Dental Implants will recommend an implant over a denture or refer you to a specialist, because of the health benefits, strength and functional benefits, as well as appearance benefits of dental implants.

You can have a strong, healthy, and vibrant smile – with all the self-confidence and joy that comes with knowing you look and feel your best.

HOW TO TELL WHICH TYPE YOU NEED

A single tooth is all it takes to make someone uncomfortable and self conscious when you talk, laugh, or smile. A single missing tooth can also cause your other teeth to shift and shrink your jawbone.

With dental implants there is no need to:

- Grind any of your teeth down
- Worry about the food you eat or having it fall out

In order to fit a bridge, we have to:

- Grind adjacent teeth down
 - Anchor it to other teeth
 - Bridges are known for being finicky and looking unconvincing

With multiple missing teeth, you also miss out on confidence and eating all of the food you love. Increased risk of jaw transformation also occurs at a higher rate.

With dental implants there is no need to:

- Grind any of your teeth down
- Worry about the food you eat or having it fall out

In order to fit a partial, we have to:

- Use clasps or retainers
 - Usually uncomfortable and unsightly
 - Grind on healthy teeth
 - Often remove them to eat

If you are missing all of your teeth, you are extremely limited on the foods you can enjoy. Also, you probably don't smile or laugh that often, due to embarrassment.

Implants are a great option for people missing all of their teeth. The denture is attached using the implanted posts, so you never have to take them out, or worry about them falling out. Eat the food you love! Laugh! Smile!

Dentures are attached with strips of sticky adhesive that don't work too well. They will become unsecured and may fall out during the day. They are hard to place in the mouth, and feel uncomfortable.

HOW DENTAL IMPLANTS WORK

The basic technology behind Implant Dentistry is actually quite simple and easy to understand. The typical Dental Implant consists of the following elements:

TITANIUM IMPLANT

This goes directly into your jawbone to create a tight, secure structure

AN IMPLANT ABUTMENT

This attaches to the implant to form the tooth above the gum line.

A MANUFACTURED CROWN

A crown is then milled to match your other teeth. Perfectly suited for biting, chewing, brushing, flossing, just like your natural teeth.

When we perform the procedure, we place a titanium implant to replace the root portion of a missing natural tooth – and then, on top of that is placed an implant abutment. To finish the process we place the replacement tooth (crown) fashioned to look and function exactly like your own natural teeth.

Note: Even though your dental implants will not be affected by decay or cavities, you will still have to care for them the same way you would care for your original teeth.

DID YOU KNOW?

Missing multiple teeth is a serious issue that can cause long-term damage to facial structure and bone density. Dental implants preserve your jaw bone and prevent the natural shrinkage that cause extra wrinkles and the appearance of pre-mature aging. A bridge or removable partial denture does not preserve or maintain your bone.

YOUR OPTIONS

Option #1 Do Nothing

You do nothing. The cost down the road can be substantial. Dentistry isn't expensive. Neglect is.

Option #2 Dental Implants

This option is less expensive than a dental bridge and also most effective, functional and aesthetically pleasing. Implants last a lifetime.

Option #3 Dental Bridge

This option costs more than implants, and requires you to cut down good teeth to use as anchors. It needs to be replaced every 5-7 years.

Option #4 Removable Partial Denture

This option is least expensive, but its bulky plastic complicates eating and it needs to be removed each night.

"I have had nothing but the most positive experience from getting dental implants to them helping me when I had issues. The staff is friendly and the dentist is gentle."

THE FIVE KEY FACTORS AFFECTING DENTAL IMPLANT PRICING

The first thing everyone asks when considering implants is “how much will it cost?” The answer can depend on many factors that all work together.

1. Skill Level / Experience

The basics of safe Implant Dentistry are actually not that complex. Most Dentists can acquire the knowledge to perform implants relatively quickly, in some cases over a few intensive weekend seminars. Nevertheless, as with any field, experience and continuing education can make a big difference in the actual patient experience and outcomes.

As you might expect, a doctor less experienced and less knowledgeable in this field will accordingly charge lower fees. But this is definitely one area where you don't want to scrimp – you want to have confidence that your doctor has the skill level necessary to handle any problems that may arise.

2. The Number of Implants Needed

Every mouth and every situation is unique, which is why advertising offering “one-sized-fits-all” kinds of deals should be eyed with suspicion. As the old saying goes, “you can't get something for nothing.” So when you see a flat price offered for implants – without any consideration given to what the patient may actually NEED in order to achieve a glowing smile and a healthy mouth – then you can know that the offer is almost certainly “too good to be true.”

The only way to get a final, realistic price on exactly what you need, is to go in for a complete oral assessment that includes a full exam, X-Rays, and a detailed analysis based on your current health and your lifestyle goals.

3. The Type of Dental Implants Used

While relatively simple in concept, there are literally hundreds of options available when it comes to choosing the right Dental Implant for your unique situation. The implant, the crown, and the abutment (which connects the crown with the implant) all come with varying price tags and from a range of manufacturers.

Choosing the right combination requires interaction between you and your Doctor, to make certain your needs medically, esthetically, and financially are all balanced and met.

4. Technology and Equipment

One factor often overlooked in pricing is the overall quality of experience provided through the use of up-to-date systems and technologies. To assess value properly, you must consider details like high quality diagnostic tools, the number and types of sedation options, surgical procedures, health monitoring equipment, and much more.

Dental technology has advanced dramatically in just the past decade – and older patients who once refused to see a Dentist due to “less-than-positive” experience as a child are now amazed at how comfortable and pain free modern dentistry can be... when the latest tools get paired with modern techniques.

5. Your Unique Health Situation

Just as no two Dentists are alike, it's even more true that no two patients are alike. Your unique, personal medical history affects the costs involved to get you to health and appearance you desire and deserve.

That's why you need to rely on the expertise of a skilled Implant Dentist who knows how to assess and consider the underlying conditions that may affect someone's suitability for Dental Implants. For instance, in some very rare cases where the jaw bone is too thin or too soft, bone grafts could be necessary to ensure ultimate success.

And in the case where you've recently lost a tooth, it's important to let your Dentist know this and to act as quickly as possible. If you don't get an implant within a year of losing the tooth, the jaw bone that surrounded the missing tooth begins to shrink – eventually becoming too small to even support an implant.

Amanda Godfrey

“Dr. Bunmi is so easy to work with. He's very skilled and his assistants are always able to explain every step of the way. My implant feels great!!”

Consider This When “Counting the Cost”

As you might guess, any one of these factors can make a huge difference in determining the final investment required.

1. Additionally, they offer a very real warning to exercise caution when considering “cut-rate” dental implant offers you may see advertised. In order to achieve these extremely low fees, corners typically have to get cut somewhere – either in the quality of materials used, the expertise of the Dentist involved, and the level of attention provided both before and after the procedure.
2. It’s also important to evaluate the cost of implants in comparison to other alternatives. For example, if you use a dentist skilled in the practice, a dental implant could well cost less and last longer than the effort necessary to restore and save a tooth. In the case of dental bridges, implants can often cost less long term due the recurring costs required to maintain the bridge.
3. Finally, how can you judge the cost of having the ability to enjoy any food you want once again? To savor a delicious steak, cooked to prime perfection... to bite into a crisp, juicy apple packed with vitamins and fiber... to enjoy fresh sweet corn on the cob without fear or struggle... it’s little pleasures like these and many more that can bring renewed joy – as well as healthy benefits – to daily life.

To know what the cost is for your specific case, we invite you to drop by and spend a moment with our highly-trained staff and doctors. They will be able to guide you to a better idea of what you can expect to spend to achieve optimal oral and body health through our Dental Implants.

Plus, regardless of your current financial situation – whether you’re on a budget or even a fixed income – we have finance plans that we can customize based on your situation and we can absolutely find something that will work for you.

THREE ON SIX

From
$900-$2,692/mo*

"It wasn't long ago, the "Three on Six" was the only option for full arch implants. In some cases, this can be the most esthetic result because there are no "fake gums" on the replacement teeth, and beautiful porcelain is bonded to a strong metal substructure. Most patients have to wear a denture for a six month period, and there are multiple surgeries and many appointments involved. Once the bridges are installed, you can eat almost any foods you want. While this approach is more old-fashioned than newer options like the "All-On-X", some people still choose this as their best fit."

FULL FIXED ARCH - ALL-ON-X

From
$901-$2,692/mo*

Most people choose this option for many reasons. In nearly all cases, only one surgery is needed, and patients get their teeth the same day (and in rare circumstances, the next day). The All-On-X is the only option that gives you same-day custom-design, anchored teeth, and they look great! Because the treatment time is significantly less than the "Three On Six", it can be done at significantly lower cost. Once implants are fully integrated, you can eat any foods you want."

SNAP-ON DENTURE

From
$283-$846/mo*

The good news is the Implant "Snap-On" Denture is the most affordable full arch implant option, and it is remarkably better than a lower denture, which will always fit poorly. The bad news is it only work predictably on the bottom jaw, and you still have to take the teeth out every night. This process involves two surgeries , and you also need to wait 4 months after implants are placed before connecting them to your denture."
